DETAILED ACTION

Allowable Subject Matter

1. The indicated allowability of claims 16, 19, 20, 33, and 34 are withdrawn in view of Buelna et al. After further review the examiner has determined that Buelna et al. reads on the limitations as set forth in claims 16 (now incorporated in claims 6), 19 (now incorporated in new claim 40) and 33.

Status of claims

2. Claims 1-15, 17-20, and 38-55 are pending. Claims 1-5 are withdrawn from consideration.

Drawings

3. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the shield must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

4. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

5. Claims 6-15, 17-20 38, 39 and 53 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. The specification does not disclose or clearly describe how the protective shield is connected or how the protective shield is able to be disposed over at least a portion of the expandable region.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

6. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

7. Claims 6-15, 17-20, and 38-55 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Buelna et al. 6620177

The applied reference has a common assignee with the instant application.

Based upon the earlier effective U.S. filing date of the reference, it constitutes prior art under 35 U.S.C. 102(e). This rejection under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) might be overcome either by a showing under 37 CFR 1.132 that any invention disclosed but not claimed in the reference was derived from the inventor of this application and is thus not the invention "by another," or by an appropriate showing under 37 CFR 1.131.

8. Buelna et al. teaches a device for creating a seal in a blood vessel comprising: a low profile shaft assembly (fig. 1), the shaft assembly having an expandable region (50) and a sealing membrane (60) spanning the expandable region, the expandable region being deployable from a first low-profile position to a second expanded position (fig. 1, fig. 3); a clamping member (36); a protective shield (col. 6, lines 14-17); the expandable region in its second expanded position has a cup shaped configuration (sides and a bottom), an elongated hexagonal shape, octagonal shape, oval shape, or a circular shape (col. 6, lines 55-62), the expandable region comprises segments that bow outwardly from the shaft assembly (fig. 9, fig. 10); wherein the bowing segments are formed of a slitted (55) flexible tube; wherein the bowing segments are formed of a super-elastic metal memory; wherein the sealing membrane is reinforced; wherein the shaft assembly further comprises a slide (22); wherein translation movement of the slide can be remotely actuated (col. 12, lines 43-47), wherein the expandable region in its second expanded position corresponds to an area of a blood vessel that is large enough to accommodate multiple anastomosis sites (area size is not specified, large enough is relative); and wherein the shaft assembly further comprises a deployment tube (241, see fig. 10a) in movable in relationship to the expandable region such the translational movement of the deployment tube from a first to a second position deploys the expandable region from the first low profile position to the second expanded position (col. 9, lines 12-23).
